

CALOMEL LOSING OUT IN SOUTH

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Responsible for Change for the Better.

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it," Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much, but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.—Adv.

THE HIGH COST OF SHOES GETS WALLOP

"Ten cents to twenty-five cents a pair is enough profit for any maker of work shoes," said Geo. R. Harsh, head of the Harsh & Chaplin Shoe Co., of Milwaukee, makers of the famous Lion Brand Work Shoes for men and Lion Brand Everyday Shoes for boys.

"For 15 years we have been trying to make the best work shoes in the country. To do this we even had to put up our own tannery, buy the hides and do our own tanning, as we could find no leather in the open market good enough to go into Lion Brand Shoes.

"That we have come close to success is evidenced by the sale of more than 100,000 pairs through thousands of stores. Last year alone the shoe buying public bought more than $6,000,000 worth.

"Lion Brand Shoes are so popular we could probably go right on doing business through the stores. But I believe there should be fewer profits between the producer and user," continued Mr. Harsh.

"By selling direct to the wearer we cut out the profit of the tanner, jobber and storekeeper, as well as the salesman's expense, and are able to save the buyer of Lion Brand Work Shoes from one dollar to three dollars a pair. For example, our No. 76 Brown Blucher, with hard toe cap, made of Lion Brand Leather (our own tanning) in regular sizes, 6 to 11, is now being sold by mail on receipt of money order, draft or buyer's own check at $3.35. This shoe formerly sold through the stores as high as $6.50.

"It took a lot of courage to change our selling policy, but we believe the buying public is ready for the change and that our action in stepping over the middleman to the user will be followed by other large manufacturers of many other well known quality products.

"Our catalog No. 1 is now ready for distribution from the factory, Hanover and Maple Streets, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Shoes shipped within 24 hours of receipt of order."—Adv.

Ripley.—The Rev. James A. Considering the inclement weather, he had a good audience and the matters under discussion were handled in a scholarly way. Mitchell is doing a good work in encouraging his race to raise food and feed crops, live at home, and become an important factor in the upbuilding of the community in which they live. He also encourages a deeper desire for education among his people.

Humboldt.—The annual meeting of the members and directors of the Ozark Fruit Growers' Exchange, will be held in Humboldt at an early date. This association, or exchange, is composed entirely of fruit and vegetable growers, and is formed on the same general principle as the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, the purpose being to get for the grower the best market price for his produce. This association keeps men in the various markets, and looks carefully after the matter of uniform packing of the produce.

Capleville.—In the new auditorium of the Capleville high school the faculty presented recently a play entitled "Her Honor, the Mayor," that pleased a large audience. J. E. The company has continued to operate during the present depression, but few sales of plows have been reported.

Memphis.—Replying to a letter from Director E. R. Lloyd as to the best plan for crop acreages for this coming season, Mr. M. P. Sturdivant writes: "For all sections I can see but one way to save ourselves—be sure to plant enough land to grain and legumes to insure ample feed for man and beast for another year. To do this necessitates the planting of as much land to corn and peas as to cotton."

Nashville.—The conviction of Richard Derrick of McMinn county for a murder committed 15 years ago was affirmed by the supreme court, the judgment of the court being that Derrick shall undergo confinement in the penitentiary for a term of 10 years. Derrick shot and killed Hugh Dugan in the town of Etowah in July 1908, and immediately fled from Tennessee to Missouri.

Johnston, pastor of the First Methodist church, Hickman, Ky., recently spent the day at his old home, en route from Covington, where he closed a deal for the building organization of his church for the purchase of a home in Covington for Dr. W. Buntyn.—Realizing that fruit is a most important part of a balanced ration, West Tennessee State Normal School plans to have its own orchard, and Frank L. Teuton, director of the institution's agricultural work, announces that a model orchard will be planted there this spring. The Normal School already has a fine herd of purebred Holstein cattle, pens of the best Duroc-Jersey hogs and flocks of standard White Leghorn chickens, and by means of these additions to its food supply has been able to keep down the cost of its students' board to $12 each a month, a most reasonable figure, it is pointed out, for an individual's food supply for a month.

Ripley.—Here is a concrete example of what a farmer can do in Lauderdale county who uses good judgment, diversifies his crops and farms scientifically. Charlie Gaines, who resides near Ripley, said: "I'm feeling pretty good. Recently I sold corn, hay and hogs which brought me in $125. I sold corn at $4.50 per barrel, hay at $0.05 per hundred and meat at 12½ cents per pound from the pole." EL DORADO FIELDS FOOL OIL EXPERTS

FUTURE OF ELDORADO IS YET TO BE KNOWN—GROUND COVERED WITH CRUDE OIL.

GUSHER STILL UNMASTERED

Hotels and Boarding Houses Are Crowded—Beggars and Grafters Rub Elbows With Men Worth Millions.

El Dorado, Ark.—El Dorado is oil crazy. Not the people who have lived here for years, but the men, women and young boys who have come since discovery of oil, and they are swelling the town's population. Some figure there are 10,000 people in El Dorado now; others say 15,000. They continue to come and go on every train, showing a spirit of restlessness, always talking oil, land leases and the future of the so-called newly discovered promised land.

There is oil at El Dorado. No one can dispute it. What it will develop into cannot be figured by experts. The one well, located on D. E. Armstrong's farm, a mile and a half west of town, has not been mastered. The tremendous gas pressure is forcing a great stream of oil from the piping. It is shot out with such force that a spot more than 300 yards long still sprinkles a field of cotton stalks, then gathers into gullies and drains down the side of a hill into a solid lake of oil.

This lake is no myth. It was formed from a natural drainage of two hills, extending in an opposite direction of the well. It has been dammed at one end, and men at the oil well showed by actual measurement that at one end the oil was 12 feet deep and two feet deep at the other. On the west side of this hill are two smaller oil lakes. Only one well has been successfully bored.

Mr. Armstrong would have been glad to have sold his farm before finding oil for $25 an acre. He has refused $25,000,000 for it after the well came in, and aside from his oil lease he has one-eighth interest in the well. No one can tell how much oil can be produced by this one well.

It has not been harnessed. Three times it blew the cap off the pipe and it still roars like a hundred approaching tornadoes. It can be heard 10 miles.

Woven with plots of oil locations, men with leases ready to sign, street grafters and beggars are rubbing elbows with men worth many times the cost of sinking a dozen oil wells. The first week of excitement has worn off.

REFUSES SHIPPING BOARD $95,000,000

SHIPPING BOARD DEPENDENT DURING FISCAL YEAR ON OPERATION RECEIPTS.

CHMN. GOOD GIVES REASONS

Amount Is Withheld Pending Comptroller's Action—Additional Funds Needed to Complete Board's Construction Program.

Washington.—Request from the shipping board for a deficiency appropriation of $95,000,000 was refused by the house appropriations committee in reporting the first deficiency appropriation bill for the current year.

The reasons were set forth by Chairman Good as follows:

"The elimination of $95,000,000 for the emergency shipping fund of the shipping board has been made, pending the settlement by the comptroller of the treasury of the questions in dispute between the war department and the shipping board. The amounts claimed by the shipping board as due from the war department aggregate $208,000,000. The sums paid by the war department up to date aggregate $53,000,000.

"The shipping board is dependent during the fiscal year upon its receipts from operations, sales, collections, etc., and as the sum of $95,000,000 was requested independently of payment by the war department, the settlement of the controverted questions between these two governmental agencies by the comptroller of the treasury is therefore a determining factor in connection with the amount of any appropriation which may be needed."

The request has been made to the comptroller to expedite action on the claims against the war department, shipping board officials said, and it was understood early action would be given the matter. Additional funds are needed, accounting officers said, in order that the completion of the board's construction program may not be delayed.

"Of all the nations we visited," said Mr. Candler, "little Belgium was the only country which seemed to have its feet planted firmly on the ground and looking forward with head erect. There we found every body busy restoring the awful wastage of the war. I am free to say that in a comparatively short while there will be remaining very few material scars of Belgium's terrible suffering from the German invasion."

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.)
